

I work in International Compliance and have long viewed HK as a major financial centre operating with a cumbersome regulatory model

Anything that can be done to enhance HK's reputation while updating the regulatory landscape must be a good thing.

I welcome the proposals